

Excellence in Detail!

UNITED INDUSTRIAL HOLDING LIMITED electronics department applies scientific management concepts in its daily operations. Our clients enjoy professional service that is provided based on two mottos - "Serving with Sincerity" and "Customer First". We have a professional and dynamic sales team that provides our customers with the best before-sales and after-sales services. In addition, we provide customized quality-assurance services and payment discounts to our long-term customers, in order to help them achieve maximum profits. UIHL also offers logistics and delivery service packages. Fast and safe delivery methods can be chosen scientifically based on different product combinations to ensure immediate delivery. This gives customers assurance and helps them save time and money.

Soon after our founding, we established the management concept of "winning through honesty and working based on trust". At the same time, we promoted these marketing concepts: sales of branded products, standardized quality, market globalization, and professional services. Facing an extremely competitive environment in the industry, we were able to stand out and become a significant player in the market.

UIHL have also built a global sales network with various leading OEM manufacturers and component trading companies in the world. With the development of its business, the company will gradually offer different product ranges. When we achieve that, we will be able to provide new and existing customers with all-rounded services of even higher quality.
